

BDA Benefit

BDA Membership Category

Options for Full members*

Representing you

	Full	Associate	Student	Affiliate	International	Alliance
Professional Indemnity Insurance , (now HCPC mandatory) worth an increased £5 million per year.
Trade union support, advice and representation in protecting dietetic jobs and service provision, and fighting for fairer pay in the NHS.
Representation to and lobbying of government and key stakeholder groups
BDA Legal provides you and your families with a range of legal services including a FREE Legal Advice Line
FREE legal representation at HCPC hearings and response preparation advice at HCPC investigations.

Useful resources

Exclusive access to the global online Practice-based Evidence in Nutrition (PEN) database.
Access to over 60 of our popular public-facing peer-reviewed Food Fact Sheets to hand out to your patients.
FREE copies of our member magazine Dietetics Today .			Online access			Online access
FREE online copies of The Journal of Human Nutrition and Dietetics.
35% off the Manual of Dietetic Practice and the BDA Advanced Nutrition Book Series inc titles on: Diabetes, Gastroenterology, Obesity and Nutritional Support
Access to apply to the General and Education Trust Fund (GET).
Modern, interactive BDA website with a wide selection of member-only information, resources and My BDA online profile area.
Access to private member and group professional online networks via the BDA Forums and private social groups.

Your CPD

Access to join your BDA branch community and gain excellent CPD and networking opportunities with peers in your local area.
Access to join one of our 17 BDA Specialist Groups for expert professional updates, online networks, resources and events.
Discounted access to attend one of our many popular quality-assured CED courses .
Access to your local Council for AHP Research (CAHPR) hub.
Discounted membership of the Royal Society of Medicine (RSM)
Opportunity to become a BDA volunteer and gain excellent CPD by learning new skills and expertise. Roles include: TU Rep, BDA Board member, media spokesperson, Ambassador, group or branch committee member, event volunteer and many more.
Opportunity to vote at BDA Annual General Meetings

Promoting you and the profession

Access to resources and to get involved in our awareness-raising Dietitians Week annual campaign.
Access to a wide range of influencing tools and resources to help you 'make the case' for dietetics and influence your local political representative/s, commissioners, other health professionals and key decision makers.
Promote your commitment to the profession by proudly displaying the ' Member of the BDA ' logo.

Events and saving you money

Significantly discounted attendance fees and participation in various BDA national and local events including BDA Live, BDA Vision and Research Symposium.
Saving you money on huge everyday (lifestyle, grocery, insurance, travel, shopping) brands via BDA Rewards .

* Note these options are for full members to transfer onto only

Non- practising	Retired

